

10. It would be desirable that as great facilities as possible should be given for taking estates out of Court, and for winding them up under private arrangement; and this seems to be the best safeguard for the speedy administration of the debtor's estate, and would materially diminish the cost attending it.

I have &c.,

HY. M'CULLOCH,
Resident Magistrate.

The Hon. the Attorney-General, Wellington.