Kumara.

There is nothing new to report about this institution. It still possesses and deserves the confidence of the public. The new vigour which was introduced at the advent of Dr. Myles is still maintained. At the time of my visit I found there was considerable public feeling aroused over an alleged case of nursing neglect. I took great pains to get at the facts, and came to the conclusion that the whole matter simply amounted to this: that in small hospitals it is not possible to secure such unremitting attention night and day as is afforded in larger and more fully-equipped hospitals. The cost per head has risen from 5s. 3d. to 6s. 7½d.

Lawrence Hospital, 2nd March, 1894.

I found this hospital in its usual satisfactory condition. It is well designed, well administered and the doctor and his assistants are most attentive to their duties. The cost per head has risen more than 1s. per day.
