

Girls' College.

Extensive alterations and additions, costing about £2,000, were completed during the past year, and the College has greatly benefited by the additional accommodation afforded in both day and boarding departments. The new gymnasium was opened early in the year, and has been much appreciated.

The average attendance for the year was 159, of whom thirty-six were boarders. Fifty of the pupils held free places under the Secondary Schools Act, twenty-five being in their second year.

The public examinations resulted as follows: Five girls passed first year's terms; four passed Matriculation; three passed Matriculation and Solicitors' General; four passed Junior Civil Service; ten passed Continuation on Civil Service papers.

Besides the ordinary school course the pupils have been afforded opportunities of learning cookery, bookkeeping, shorthand, and swimming. The music pupils gave recitals from time to time at the School of Music.
