Nil	Wellington Harbour (Pencarrow Head)	S.	6-7	The Court found that two causes contributed to casualty, one being the unusual state of weather, which caused leading lights in harbour to be obscured at a little distance and thus rendered navigation difficult, and the second cause being an extraordinary flood in the Hutt River, creating a set in a south-easterly direction towards the harbour-entrance, and, if this prevailed, would have taken ship off her course without the ship's officer being aware of the fact, as weather conditions prevented the ship's course being checked. The Court further found that the master and officers took every precaution to ensure safe navigation of ship, and that casualty was not caused by any wrongful act or default of master, officers, or crew, and, accordingly, master's certificate was returned and no order made as to costs
