BOOTS!

Boots! Boots! Boots!
Tramping all the day
Down the dusty, war-worn road,
Well they earn their pay—
For they carry such a load.

Boots! Boots! Boots!
If you treat them fair
They will save your feet from pain
And honest pair
Take you there and back again.

Boots! Boots! Boots!
Till your latest breath
They will climb the hill to fame,
Trudge the road to Death,
Or march back the road you came.

Boots! Boots! Boots!
Help to win the war;
Though they are only leather
They will take you far
In fair or stormy weather.

Boots! Boots! Boots!
Oil them if you can;
Then, when you are dead and gone,
On some other man
They may still keep marching on.

Boots! Boots! Boots!
Tramping all the day
Down the dusty, war-worn road,
Well they earn their pay—
Bearing such a heavy load.

WAR FRIENDS.

Digger and clobber, mate and chum—
Who says there's nothing in a name?
Friends who adown my pathway come,
And pass as quickly as they came;
They who have faced the fume and flame,
And marched with me to beat the drum,

Have taught the meaning of the name,
Digger, and clobber, mate and chum;
But when they're far away, or dumb,
And lapsing memory I blame,
This page shall ever guard the sum
Of those who helped me play the game—

Digger and clobber, mate and chum;
Indeed there's something in a name.
