

William Horwood Callanish

By the Author of Duncton Wood

This story is dedicated to Goldie the golden eagle who has been in the cages of London Zoo since 1959.

The author of two previous international bestsellers about animals has written a brilliantly imagined new novel. Deliberately told in spare, straightforward prose, fuelled by a fierce anger about the way we incarcerate wild creatures, it is a poignant and thought-provoking story.
