Back the bare essentials.

When heading out into Nature you need to back yourself and your equipment.

With Primus its reassuring to know they've been in the business over 100 years.

Reliable? Ask Sir Ed Hillary. After all it was a Primus stove that fed the team all the way to Everest, and back.

So you know the Backpacking range just has to be the best. Each lightweight item separately packaged in its own pouch. Because you can carry them on your pack it leaves more room in your pack.

You may not be heading for the top of the world but isn't it nice to know your Primus could.

Primus. The trusted name for hikers, trampers, hunters and campers.
