

*The 11-spotted ladybird (Coccinella undecimpunctata)
– introduced in 1874 to control aphids – was the first insect deliberately brought to New Zealand as a biological control agent.*

Biological Control?

is it environmentally safe