Some Suggestions for the Week

HERE IS VARIETY:

A Musician,
Playwright and
Teller of Tales

STACY AUMONIER ranks as one of the best short-story writers of all time. Through the courtesy of his widow and of the B.B.C., the National Broadcasting Service will present a dramatised version of his story, "The Fall," from 4YA on Tuesday evening, August 8, at 9.5 p.m.

JOHN GALSWORTHY has few equals in modern English letters as a novelist and playwright. His drama, "Loyalties," adapted and produced by the N.B.S., will be broadcast from 1YA on Sunday evening, August 6, at 9.5 p.m.
