- 9.19 Hedy Biland (violin), "Romance in F Major" Beethoven

- 9.29 Recordings:
Sigrid Onegin (contralto) with Berlin State Opera Orchestra and Berlin Doctors' Choir, "Alto Rhapsody" .. Brahms
- The Rhapsody for Contralto, Male Voice Choir, and Orchestra, is founded on Goethe's descriptive poem on a journey to the Harz mountains. Loneliness is the keynote of the first two parts of the poem—the sad state of those who live apart from human comradeship. The last part is in happier vein, concluding with a prayer to the "Father of Love" to open the selfish eyes of the lonely one to all the beauty about him.

- 9.45 London Philharmonic Orchestra, conducted by William Walton, "Facade Suite" .... Walton

"Facade" was originally conceived as a series of poems by Edith Sitwell to be recited through a megaphone, with musical accompaniment by William Walton. These accompaniments are all in the form of very clever and witty parodies of popular dances, from the polka to the fox-trot. The success of the music necessitated some of the best numbers being separated from their context and turned into an orchestral suite.
