Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lamb must perform one good deed a day for twelve months in order to fulfill the conditions of their Uncle's will, and take possession of that seventy-five thousand pounds. Have you ever tried to define a Good Deed? Listen in and see if this happy pair can help you.

- 8.27 The BBC Dance Orchestra,
 "C. B. Cochran Presents"

"In the bright lexicon of C. B. Cochran's permanent youth, there has been no such word as prudence." So says his friend and kindly critic, James Agate. Cochran plays with fortunes as carelessly as an infant with its mother's diamond necklace. In the meteoric career of this modern Prince of Showmen, fearful successes go hand in hand with horrific failure, and both give a catch in the breath. But whatever the financial outcome, no such thing as an artistic failure ever reared its head under the Cochran banner.
