

I WOULDN'T HAVE BELIEVED IT

Thanks for telling me about that 'Steradent,' old man.

Yes, it's the brightest idea yet for cleaning dentures.

Now let me get it right. You say you just leave your teeth in the 'Steradent' solution over-night?

That's it.

And it positively removes stain and film?

It certainly does.

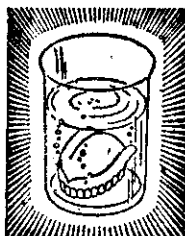

Fine! But sometimes I keep my teeth in at night.

Then you can put them in 'Steradent' for 20 minutes while you're dressing in the morning.

Splendid! I must get some to-day.

CLEAN FALSE TEETH THIS NEW EASY WAY
Half a tumbler of warm water. Stir in a heaped teaspoonful of Steradent. Steep your dentures overnight or 20 minutes. Rinse well under the tap.

BRITISH ARMY

demonstrates the merits of

HUMBER

THE British Army has made very wide use of Humbers for gruelling front-line use.

The Utility car shown here is now coming into its own in our victorious advance. This Humber Army Car can mount banks and tackle steep gradients of loose and slimy surfaces which normally would be impossible to surmount. This car is powered by the well-known Humber Super-Snipe engine and which in these Army vehicles has shown its ability to handle all-up weights of eleven tons.

"HOW DID YOU DO IT?"
"HOW DO BSA DO IT?"

Anyone who has the good luck to get hold of a B.S.A. Bicycle nowadays is a man to be envied. "How did you do it—where did you get it?" ask his jealous friends. That wartime B.S.A. Bicycles should be so particularly sought after is a tribute to the way B.S.A. do it. If there's anything in omens, post-war B.S.A. Bicycles will beat even past B.S.A. records. The only rival to their perfect performance will be their splendid appearance.

Some more B.S.A. Bicycles are now coming into the country. Ask your dealer if he has one available for you—you may be lucky. Or—put your name down and be sure of it when it arrives.
