

PROGRAMMES

An unusual Person in the Programmes this week is KING JOHN, of whom a photograph appears above. For the explanation of how he comes to be in the programmes, see the Monday paragraph on Page 4.

LESLIE BAILY (left), the producer of the BBC series "Travellers' Tales," heard from National stations. And (right), E. H. HUGHES, one of a group of African musicians who took part in a recent broadcast in the series. He is here seen playing the cilimba, a hollow wooden instrument played by thumb pressure.

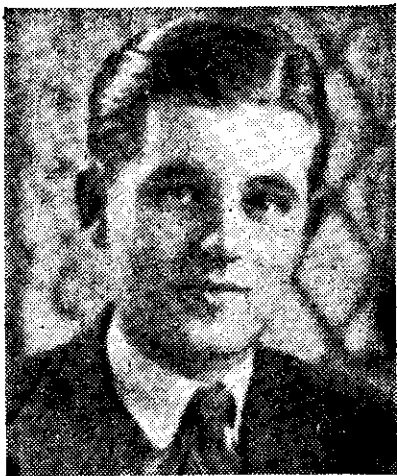

BBC photographs

Alan Blakey photograph
JOAN BRYANT (soprano) will sing from 2YA on Tuesday, March 6.

An early photograph of ALAN LOVEDAY (left), of Palmerston North. He left New Zealand in 1939 to continue his violin studies in England. He will be heard in a BBC shortwave programme on March 2. Another young New Zealander, COLIN HORSLEY (right) will be the pianist.

BBC photograph
THREE DOVER CHILDREN at Brighton recording for the BBC overseas radio newscast. They were among the 190 children who were given a holiday after the severe shelling of Dover last September, the New Zealand Government contributing to the Lord Mayor of London's fund for the purpose.

COLIN McALISTER, who is heard as narrator in the ZB feature "Prisoner at the Bar," presented at 8.5 on Tuesday evenings.

FREE TO FARMERS.

POPULAR FARM MAGAZINE

A complimentary copy of the "Exporter" and "Farm Home Journal" for one issue will be posted to you FREE of charge if you are engaged in farming and are not already a subscriber to this most popular and informative journal. Just send coupon below.

The purpose of this offer is to reveal to you the wealth of farming information and the variety of useful topics covered by the "Exporter." The highly instructive articles on farm management, the practical ideas used successfully on New Zealand farms and the modern developments in farming overseas, are all part of a good farmer's education.

For your family there is Tui's Home Section, containing lovable, human interest stories and sketches of New Zealand's country life. Bright, amusing and entertaining contributions by New Zealand farm women—recipes, hints and children's section.

As the demand for the next issue is likely to be heavy, SEND COUPON NOW or use separate sheet of paper, printing your name and address clearly in block letters.

SEND COUPON NOW!

Publishing Dept., "EXPORTER,"
P.O. Box 1001, WELLINGTON.

Being a farmer and not already a subscriber to the "Exporter," I would like to receive a free copy of your next issue.

NAME.....

ADDRESS.....

JOHNSON'S RADIO COLLEGE

(Now under management of McKenzie Engineering Academy)

Qualify for your Radio Serviceman's Exam, or Commercial Radio Operator's Exam, by Johnson's up-to-date Correspondence Course. Success guaranteed. Pay as you learn. Write or call for full particulars.

23 Aitken Street :: Wellington

THE NEW SHAMPOOS GLY-SEN

Shampoo Powder and Rinse. For beauty and protection against dandruff.

6d.

GLY-SEN LIQUID TONIC SHAMPOO

Easy to use; contains hexoresorcinol to control dandruff.

2/2 everywhere.

USE GLY-SEN... THE EFFICIENT SHAMPOOS

Made by Salmond & Spraggon Ltd. 2 Customhouse Quay, Wellington.

24