

It's a
'BIG' Light Car

*-with a BIG car
performance- but Light Car economy—over 40 miles per gallon*

The new Hillman Minx betters even the reputation of the pre-war Minx for fuel economy. Improvements, born of war-time research, include new type cylinder head, Lo-ex alloy pistons and increased compression ratio, have brought down fuel consumption, yet increased available power to 35 B.H.P. Yet for all its wonderful fuel economy the Minx is BIG among light cars — big in its roomy interior and general comfort, in its capacious luggage boot, and like a big car in the way it handles on the road.

THIS NEW ZEALAND

By F. L. W. WOOD - - - 5s.

No other single book gives so reliable and comprehensive a survey of the New Zealand scene. Here is a sketch of the country to-day, its people, its politics, its virtues and peculiarities, done with a kindly but not uncritical pen. Illustrated. 259 pages. Just published.

SPEAKING CANDIDLY

By GORDON MIRAMS - - 13s. 6d.

Miss C. A. Lejeune, the most notable English film commentator, writes: "I was delighted with the book—I think it is by far the best thing that has ever been written about the films by any British critic."

WHAT'S WRONG WITH BROADCASTING?

By ORMOND WILSON - 2s.

This pamphlet, with its plan for reform of radio, is causing much discussion. "Please read this book, it is the most comprehensive, clear and readable criticism," says "The Otago Daily Times." "The New Zealand Herald" and "The Southern Cross" agree in commending it. "The N.Z. Observer" in a full page article calls one of the author's arguments balderdash, but says that listeners should read the book.

*'Dear Friend,
can you help'*

No man would like to think that his widow, some day, might be forced to ask others for help.

To provide security, to ensure safe and efficient handling of his family's inheritance is every man's clear-cut and simple duty.

Nor is it a difficult one. The Public Trust Office will be pleased to explain to you what steps you should take—to make or revise a will, and to appoint an executor or trustee.
