A Man and his family

Life Assurance is a vast Co-operative enterprise for taking care of future needs

Life Assurance is a way of safeguarding families against hardship brought about by old age and death.

Life Assurance rests on the principle of co-operation. A life office is merely the instrument that enables a group of people to co-operate for their mutual benefit and protection.

Life Assurance is purely voluntary. Each citizen is free to decide what benefits he desires, and to make his contribution accordingly.

The wise man protects his family with sufficient Assurance to see it through the difficulties that may lie ahead.
