DENTAL DETAILS

SIX-YEAR MOLARS

When a child begins to change over from temporary to permanent teeth, the first to come through are the "six-year molars." Mothers should take special care to protect these molars—there are four of them, one on each side top and bottom, behind the baby teeth — they are the keystone of the dental arc. Early loss of these teeth will result in serious dental trouble as he child grows older. What cannot be cured can often be prevented— from the age of two a child's teeth should be periodically checked by the dentist and regularly brushed with Kolynos.
