Things are happening fast in medical research... Sulpha drugs, Penicillin, Streptomycin... amazing new discoveries which are saving countless lives. There are more to come. Science searches unceasingly. When these, and other drugs are prescribed by your physician they are made available to you through your Chemist. He is qualified to understand them. In the same way, your Chemist's professional knowledge is applied to the "everyday" things you buy... household medicines, tonics, ointments, first-aid requirements, toilet needs. Your Chemist's advice, in the selection of these things, can be of great assistance to you. He gives it gladly because the well-being of his fellows is a tradition of the pharmaceutical profession.
