

Treasure Chests

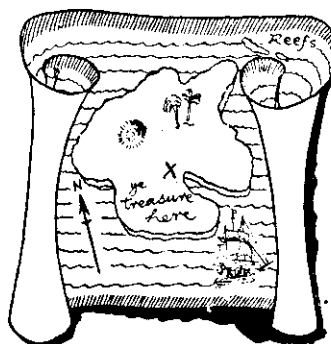

Romance! At ebb tide you can just get round the rocks. The yellow sand runs up to the cliffs. There's a dark shadow there. If you climb through the narrow opening, you'll be inside the Pirates' Cave. The sand has drifted in, but there are no footprints there. The walls come closer as you go on, and the roof is lower. Your torch plays on the damp walls. In a niche there's a piece of candle in a bottle. Half-buried in the sand there's a tarnished button of a kind you don't see nowadays. And a bone! Half a dozen bones! And then a box, bound with iron. Romance! Heritage of childhood - and it can be yours. You can buy this delightful Treasure Chest full of exciting books - not just a few small books, but a wonderful collection which every child will love to take out, one by one, with fresh gasps of surprise as each treasure is revealed. Each 20/- Treasure Chest contains at least £2 worth of books! For small children up to 9 there's the Captain Hook Treasure Chest. For older ones, there's either the boy's or the girl's Long John Silver Treasure Chest.

About

NEW ZEALAND

THE STORY OF OTAGO

Ready in good time for the Otago Centenary, this large, illustrated book is a fascinating record of the early days of the province. Otago residents and descendants of Otago families will read with interest the stories of the pioneers and adventurers who helped build a city and province.
By A. H. Reed. Price 20/-

WAYLEGGGO

"Wayleggo!" — the sheep musterer's call to his dogs — is an unusual title for an unusual book. Here are true tales of a little-known aspect of New Zealand life, the story of the musterers, their dogs, and the great sheep stations of the South Island. Many illustrations.
By Peter Newton. Price 12/6

HOW THE MAORIS CAME TO AOTEAROA

Many centuries ago, intrepid Maori adventurers sailed their open canoes across the stormy Pacific and discovered New Zealand. They were followed years later by the famous canoes of the Great Migration. This new book, which is profusely illustrated by the author, tells in full the wonderful story of these brave Maori explorers.
By H. D. B. Dansey. Price 12/6

NO ROLL OF DRUMS

Here, in the adventures of a pioneer Nelson family, is a true and living picture of the trials and triumphs of the life of early New Zealand settlers. The author's family settled at Ngatimoti in the Mātueka and this interesting family history is well told and illustrated.
By Colonel C. B. Brereton. Price 12/6

GARDEN TREASURES

The Editor of "N.Z. Gardener" has made a selection of outstanding trees, shrubs and plants for New Zealand gardens, describing them in full and giving expert directions for cultivation. Each plan is shown in a full-page illustration and there are four colour plates. A splendid gift for gardening friends and a valuable guide for every gardener.
By J. W. Matthews. Price 12/6

REEDS' CHRISTMAS ANNUAL

Here is a new and delightfully different Christmas Annual, a well-chosen collection of New Zealand photographs, stories and articles that will please all New Zealanders and their overseas friends. With a free wrapper for mailing. Price 2/6

NEW ZEALAND TRAVEL

In his 70th year, A. H. Reed explored little-known parts of New Zealand, enjoying the local history, the scenery and the friends he made along the road. The result of this holiday on foot was the publication of three books, a record of pleasant adventure and travel through the New Zealand countryside.
Farthest East Price 12/6

Farthest North Price 7/6

Great Barrier Price 6/6
