Tonight at 7.30 from 2ZB radio detective Perry Mason concludes "The Case of the Hurried Courtship."

Al Jolson's career as an entertainer started in the years of the nigger minstrel shows and has covered musical comedy, variety, talkies, radio, and television, and this career has been studded with a succession of popular songs. You will hear some of them from 4ZB at 3.45 this afternoon in "Al Jolson and his Songs."

Popular songwriter Frank Loesser was the man who wrote the first American wartime hit of the Second World War, "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition." Since then his list of song successes have included such best sellers as "Jingle, Jangle, Jingle," "Tallahasse," "Bloop, Bleep," and "On a Slow Boat to China." Some of these will be featured by 2ZA at 8.45 this evening.
