9.45 Elisabeth Schumann (soprano), in songs by Schubert, "Margaret at the Spinning Wheel," "Fisherways," "Night and Dreams," "Happiness"

Both heredity and environment played a part in moulding the career of Elisabeth Schumann, the distinguished prima donna. She is a descendant of Henrietta Sontag, the celebrated dramatic soprano and coloratura singer of Beethoven's day, and she was reared in a musical atmosphere. In grand opera and in lieder recitals she holds a high place in the musical world. Madame Schumann, who is now permanently settled in the United States, owes much to her artistic association with Richard Strauss, in whose operas especially she has achieved success after success.
