THE NEARER THE BONE . . .

The good old days, so far as rich food was concerned, were King Ha's. Now we feed with more science and more concern for our tummies. But you should find the A.E.C. talk, "Food of Our Forefathers," not only interesting, but provocative of more than one gastronomic twinge of envy. It will be presented from 1YA and 3YA on Thursday, May 2, at 3.30 p.m. and 2.30 p.m., and from 2YA on Friday at 3 p.m.

In 1848, the then tottering Austrian Empire was held together for a while by the crushing victories over her revolting provinces, Lombardy, Bohemia, and Hungary, achieved by four Austrian generals, among them Radetzky. In those days the elder Strauss, father of the "Waltz King," composed a march to commemorate these events. Its bright tunefulness and martial swing secured for it immediate popular acceptance. Probably no military march ever written attained such universal success as this one.
