It was the late Victor Herbert who eyed the young Lew White just coming into prominence. The old composer was foot-weary and nearing the end of the road, but he paused to say that the young man would some day become, according to all portents, the greatest master of the pipe organ. He based his tribute on the younger man's tense eagerness to study and understand his art. For fifteen years Lew White adhered to the same schedule of study.

A tale of Eastern Mystery and Intrigue, presented by George Edwards and Company

A mystery thriller with Teddy Fitzgerald, known to his friends as "Fitz" of the C.I.D. as hero; and with members of the Shiva Somaj, or Circle of Shiva, a powerful and sinister Indian Secret Society, as extremely ingenious villains.

8.41 Horace Finch (organ),
"Finch Favourites No. 4"

8.47 Flanagan and Allen (duets),
"On the Outside Looking In" Carr
"Are You Havin' Any Fun?" Yellen

An unusual modest streak runs through Flanagan and Allen, who were the most bewildered when the public regarded as singers two men who were the first to admit that they had no voices. Bud Flanagan said: "We are not singers and never claimed to be. It's all a mistake and I don't know where it will land us. Allen and I are comedians—Oh—we aim to make the people laugh. But when we've done that and start to sing they take us seriously." It all began with the little chorus "Underneath the Arches," with which they closed a "broken-down swell" act. The chorus was encored so persistently that Bud had to write some verses round it and publish the same.
