Edmundo Ros, exponent of the Latin-American musical idiom, and now a BBC Personality, was a high-spirited youth. He exhausted a fond mother's patience and was packed off to a South American military college for discipline. Here the college band was immediately the subject of his closest attention. He was given the only spare instrument—something like a huge euphonium—which was almost as big as he was. Struggling with this massive affair proved too much for the youngster's health, so he went on to the drums. Later he took up musical study at the Royal Academy, London, and eventually had his own band. For some time he has been playing at the Bagatelle, one of London's smartest restaurants, and at the Astor Night Club, and also broadcasting regularly. Edmundo Ros and his orchestra will be heard from 4ZB tonight at 9.30.

From 11.15 this morning 2ZA will broadcast commentaries from the first day of the Manawatu Racing Club's Autumn meeting at Awapuni.
