Government Life Policyholders

Once again participating policyholders are receiving the distinctive Government Life bonus envelope containing advice of a further increase in the value of their policies. The profits from which the bonus distribution is made have been earned by economical management and prudent investment of funds, and the manner in which the policyholders' funds have been built up is shown in the simple summary of the year's financial operations which accompanies each bonus notice.

This exemplifies the truly mutual character of the 'Government Life'—only Policyholders share in the profits. Each year the 'Government Life' gains in popularity as more and more people discover the undoubted advantages of insuring with New Zealand's only Mutual Life Insurance Office—established in New Zealand for the benefit of New Zealanders. YOU are invited to make use of the wide variety of Government Life Contracts designed to cover every business, personal and family need.
