SHIRLEY WELCH (above), a Wellington pianist, who has returned to New Zealand after three years of study at the Royal College of Music in London, will be heard in a series of studio recitals from National stations during the next few weeks. Her first broadcasts will be from 2YA next week, at 7.30 p.m. on Tuesday, February 14, 8.38 p.m. on Thursday, February 16, and 8.28 p.m. on Friday, February 17. She will broadcast in succeeding weeks from 2XG (on February 21 and 22), 2YZ (on February 26), and 1YA (on March 1, 3 and 4). Her Wellington recitals will include a chaconne (Bach-Busoni), and a Mozart sonata, while the Napier broadcast will consist of miscellaneous pieces. From Gisborne she will play programmes of Chopin and Beethoven compositions, and her Auckland recitals will probably include a Beethoven sonata, and works by Brahms and Chopin.

Shirley Welch went to London for three years on an Associated Board scholarship, and studied under Arthur Alexander. She gained her A.R.C.M. performer's certificate, and was awarded the Pauer prize, the Herbert Fryer prize, and one of two medals given for piano playing each year. She was also chosen to play with the Royal College of Music orchestra at one of their public concerts, and gave several concerts for the British Music movement, of which Freda Swain, the composer, is the organiser. She gained experience in orchestral work, playing the viola in both the College orchestras. A fourth year at the College has been offered her as an extension of her scholarship, and she intends to return to London within 18 months.

Flies' Dreadful Fate

ARE you troubled with flies? If so you might welcome the invention which BBC reporter Thomas Cadett saw at an exhibition in Paris, and described in "Radio News Reel." It was a fly catcher which hangs from the ceiling and has a coiled metal stem ending in a metal bowl that looks rather like a lamp. The idea is that flies land on the stem and get a severe electric shock. This makes them faint and they fall into the bowl itself. And then there is no hope for them, for in the bowl is a red hot coil, which first kills and then cremates the fly.—BBC London Letter.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE —

Without Calomel — And You'll Jump out of Bed in the Morning Full of Vim.

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Wind bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, tired and weary and the world looks blue.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two 'pounds' of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely.

Ask for CARTER'S Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else.
