Charles Kullman, an American tenor, was studying medicine at Yale when he discovered that his singing activities were shaping a different career for him from the one he had planned. Kullman, instead of pursuing medicine, went to Europe, and there completed his musical education. He has since appeared as star in films and at the Metropolitan Opera. Recordings may be heard from 2ZA this morning at 10.45.

A saxophonist at 12, Tony Martin was playing sax and singing with a professional band by the time he was 14. At 18, he made his first national radio appearance and a few years later broke into movies. He served 4 years with the United States Army during World War Two, returning with a greater voice than ever. He is married to screen star and dancer Cyd Charisse. "Tony Martin Sings" will be heard from 4ZB at 4.15 p.m. this afternoon.
