Crosbie Morrison will again be heard from all ZB stations this evening at 6.15 to bring you another presentation of "The Junior Naturalists' Club."

Two American artists who have been a success in the entertainment world and on films are featured from 2ZA this evening at 8.30. Recordings by Frances Langford and the troubadour with the guitar, Nick Lucas, will be heard at that time.

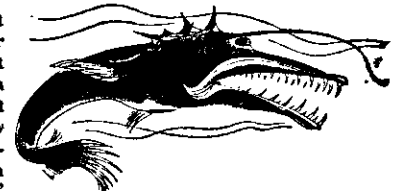

Tonight at 10.0 3ZB listeners will hear the first episode of a new feature, "The Human Comedy," from the classic by Honore de Balzac—a tale full of interest, a tale of intrigue, sadness combining with humour to make it a programme well worth waiting up for each Tuesday and Wednesday night at 10.0.

"The Sea Around Us"

This is the book that overnight rose to the top of the best-seller list in America. "One of the most beautiful books of our time, a stimulating, fascinating, almost terrifying report," says the New York Herald Tribune. "A combination of science and vision that holds the reader enthralled," writes the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

January Reader's Digest brings you a condensation from "The Sea Around Us"—the fantastic story of the sea—of how earth's life emerged from it—of the mysteries beneath it—of the winds cradled upon it—of its currents that distribute heat and cold—how it affects mankind.

He Hopes To Be Tomorrow's Führer. Nazism, which the world believed dead, has risen again in Western Germany. Ranting speeches, black-shirted toughs, youth movements—the old Hitler technique is being faithfully followed. A first-hand report on hard-faced Otto Ernst Remer—a dangerous ex-Nazi hero, who, like Hitler, is a fanatic. In two years he has rallied hundreds of thousands of embittered Germans to the Socialist Reich Party. Why You Should Learn to Forget. Resenting wrongs and the ache for revenge are poison in anyone's system. Do you believe you can forget unpleasant incidents? A well-known minister tells why you work with nature instead of against her when you learn to forget—how you can free your mind of things you're better off not remembering. A most unusual and helpful article. Quo Vadis? "Whither goest thou?"

asked Christ of Peter as He met him fleeing from Nero's menacing Rome. A. J. Cronin tells when on a recent pleasure trip in Italy he came upon the Shrine of the haloed meeting place where the memorable words were spoken. This world-famous author explains why "Quo Vadis" is the sobering question you should ask yourself as you rush through life. The Great Plague of 1918. Twenty-one million men, women and children were victims of the influenza pandemic of 1918. In the world's history, it has only two rivals: the plague of 642 A.D. and the Black Death of the 14th century. The stark facts of the "Spanish flu" which swept the earth, killing more people than both world wars—left modern medicine helpless. Could it happen again? Probably not. Newly-developed vaccines and anti-biotics are strong weapons against it.
