

A RADIO version of the well-known Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer short subject Passing Parade is to begin shortly from ZB stations. Written by an ex-journalist, John Nesbitt (above), the series consists of self-contained fifteen-minute stories about a variety of people. There are characters famous and obscure, rich and poor, courageous and cowardly, sober and fantastic—Nesbitt has always succeeded in making his audiences wonder just where he gets his material from. John Nesbitt's Passing Parade is produced by M-G-M Radio Attractions, New York, and will be heard from ZB stations on Mondays and Wednesdays at 7.15 p.m. It began from 1ZB and 2ZB on June 3, and will begin from 3ZB on June 10 and from 4ZB on June 24.

BARBARA BASHAM (above), who introduced the 4YA Topics for Business Women while she was in charge of women's programmes at that station, launches a similar Saturday morning programme at 2YA at 10.30 a.m. this Saturday (June 6). For the first two weeks listeners will hear talks by Arnold Wall on Wine in the Kitchen, and by Patricia Rae on Jobs of My Life. Miss Basham told The Listener there will be quite a bit about cooking in this session. There will be a new series by Cook Anonymous, whose earlier talks will be remembered, and Miss Basham hopes also to have talks on cooking for one or two people in small flats or rooms with few facilities—and perhaps something on interior decoration, too.
