Eddie Heywood, coloured keyboard stylist, will be introduced to 1ZB listeners at 1.45 p.m. today in "Solo Time."

"From our Beltona Library," to be heard from 2ZB at 9.15 tonight, presents songs and artists who record exclusively for that particular label. The accent is on Scottish music.

Eric Coates is one of the few composers who have written melodies that appeal to most musical tastes. He first studied music at the Royal Academy where he won a scholarship for the viola. He then toured South Africa with the Hambourg String Quartet, and on returning to England played in the orchestras of Sir Thomas Beecham and Sir Henry Wood. He became interested in conducting in 1919 when he made his first appearance as conductor-composer with his "Summer Days Suite" at the Queen's Hall. Some of his shorter pieces will be heard from 3ZB at 10 o'clock tonight.
