

Building & Architecture.

The Architectural Editor will be glad to receive suggestions or matter from those interested in this section. Address: Architectural Editor, PROGRESS, 71 Lambton Quay, Wellington.

TOM TOWER, ENTRANCE TO CHRISTCHURCH, OXFORD.

[Mr. C. Dillworth Fox, Photo]

Notes.

Repairs are in hand to a residence in Buckle street, Wellington. Architect, John S. Swan; contractors, Davies & Browman.

*****

Mr. J. W. Fosette's tender has been accepted for the erection of a nine-roomed residence in Sydney street, Wellington. Nineteen tenders were received by the architect. Mr. Palmer's tender has been accepted for the purchase and removal of the old cottage now on the site. Architect, John S. Swan.

The contract has been let for the erection of a residence at Trentham. Architect, John S. Swan; contractors Strand Bros., Lower Hutt.

*****

Some interesting interiors are given of a residence just completed for Mr. C W Palmer, of Goldie's Brae, Wellington. The house and furniture was designed and executed by Mr. Chapman-Taylor, architect and art craftsman, and is after the style of the present-day English home. The dining-room, drawing-room and hall have jarrah woodwork and floors. This handsome wood, which is oiled only, presents a beautiful and rich appearance and gives a feeling of substantial comfort. The woodwork of the bedroom is enamelled ivory white, and the furniture which is built in is of oiled jarrah. The house contains six living rooms besides bathroom, scullery, pantry, hall, a large balcony and numerous wardrobes and cupboards and is exceptionally well built. The total cost, including all built-in furniture, was £770. Owing to the nature of the ground we were unable to obtain an exterior photograph.