

The Pan-Pacific Peace Palace at Hawaii.

For the great Pan-Pacific Peace Conference to take place in 1920 and 1921, it is proposed to erect a large hall for conference meetings. The Hawaiian legislature has set aside £2000 towards preliminary erected in Honolulu. The information bureau will be permanent."

The proposed Peace Palace has been designed by Messrs Dickey and Wood, of Honolulu. It will be a community building, housing not only the Pan-Pacific Union, but many other welfare organisations. It is anticipated that the building will be endowed, so that the Boy Scouts, the Hawaiian organisations, the women's clubs and the soldiers' welany expenses in calling the proposed congress to Honolulu and other Pacific Governments have either appropriated or promised financial support to the scheme.

Facade to proposed Pan-Pacific Peace Palace.

A Model of the proposed Pan-Pacific Peace Palace in the form of a Greek Theatre.

"In the window of the Fort Street headquarters of the Pan-Pacific Information Bureau," says the Honolulu "Commercial Advertiser," "is displayed a big model in plaster of the proposed Pan-Pacific Peace Palace and conference auditorium to be fare workers will be given free homes. One of the trustees of the Pan-Pacific Union has already assured a site for the building facing the civic centre and it is believed that governments of the Pacific as well as private capitalists will subscribe liberally toward the building of an auditorium for the holding of the Pan-Pacific conferences, as well as toward a permanent home and offices for the workers who conduct the business of these conferences.

Grand Plan of the proposed Pan-Pacific Peace Palace, facing the Civic Centre in Honolulu.