

3YA Features

THE Beckenham Male Quartet will be associated with Derry's Military Band on Monday evening. The popular band and the equally popular vocalists have arranged splendid programmes. Concerted numbers by the quartet will include the "Mother Goose" medley, "Philosophy," "Twilight Shades Descending," "Piccaninny Lullaby," and "Ramona." There will be a duet, "Sweet Genevieve." Solos will comprise "Beware of the Maiden" and "The Garden of Afterwards."

Also contributing to Monday's programme will be Miss M. J. Gilbert, soprano, and the Studio Trio. The records for the evening will include items by Harry Lauder, Peter Dawson, Roy Smeck (guitar), and orchestral numbers.

Mr. E. J. Bell will give a talk on books on Monday evening at 7.30.

THE concert programme for Wednesday will be subject to alteration on account of the municipal election results. But a splendid programme has been arranged, and heading the artists will be Miss Edith Harhy, the eminent Welsh pianiste-composer-singer. Also on the programme will be the Dulcet Quartet. Instrumental music will be provided by the Bohemian Quintet.

A VERY interesting feature of Wednesday's programme will be the items by Mr. A. G. Thompson, baritone. His three numbers have been composed by himself. Mr. Thompson is shortly leaving on a trip to the Old Land.

THE Madame Gower Burns Grand Opera Quartet will supply the vocal portion of Thursday evening's programme. Miss Myra Pollard, mezzo-soprano, is now a member of this party. The quartet numbers will be "London Town" and "Fly, Singing Bird, Fly." All the members of the quartet will sing solos. Worthy of special mention will be the dramatic song to be sung by Mr. James Filer. Emanuel's "The Desert." Pianoforte solos will be played by Miss Dorothy Davies, there will be cello solos by Mr. Harold Beck and selections by the Studio Four.

THE Radiolians will feature excerpts from "The Maid of the Mountains" on Friday evening. They will be associated with the Rhythmic Duo, singers of popular songs, and the Marston-Bailey Dance Band.

MRS. BERYL WINDSOR, of the West Coast, one of the prize winners in the recent 2YA poetry competition, will recite her own composition on Saturday evening. It is entitled "The Bushman's Child." Another recitation to be given by her will be "If Life were a Play." Mrs. Windsor is a talented reciter and she also has a distinct literary gift.

Other artists who will appear in the vaudeville programme on Saturday evening will be Miss Lottie Colville (soprano), the Melody Girls (songs with ukulele accompaniment), Mr. A. Couch (tenor), Miss Doris Webb (recitations to piano accompaniment), Mr. Robert Samson (baritone), Miss Irene Morris (violin), and the Studio Trio.

4YA Notes

THE service at the Methodist Central Mission, where the preacher will be the Rev. Hinton, will be broadcast on Sunday evening. After this service a concert will be relayed from the St. Kilda band rotunda.

Mr. R. Samson, baritone, who broadcasts from 3YA regularly.

The second lecturette on drama by Mr. Lloyd Ross, M.A., of the W.E.A., will be given on Tuesday evening at 7.40. On this occasion he will deal with "Tragedy."

THE concert programme for the evening will be provided by the St. Kilda Band, assisted by 4YA artists. The band programme will be one of the best, selected by Mr. James Dixon, the conductor. Miss Eva Scott will sing "Four Leaf Clover," "Little Boy Blue" and "Flowers of the Forest." Mr. Neil Black's items will be "Gypsy Love," "Not Understood," and "Oh, to be a Gypsy." Mr. Carl Moller, entertainer, will recite three numbers which are sure to be very popular.

"THERE was a Jolly Miller," the opening chorus of "The Serenaders" on Wednesday evening, gives the cue to the evening's programme. Their concluding item will be "Begone Dull Care." Besides these performers, who will also sing solo items, the Dunedin Banjo Trio will play some of the latest popular airs, and humorous sketches will be performed by Miss Anita Winkel and Major F. H. Lampen,

Wednesday evening—municipal election results.

On Thursday evening at 7.30, Mr. H. Greenwood, of the Athenaeum, will give a talk on books.

THREE popular songs will be sung by Mrs. Charles Isaacs on Friday evening: "Danny Boy," "Angus McDonald" and "There's a Land." The contralto songs by Miss Irene Horniblow will be, "The Sandman," "The Arrow and the Song" and the old English song, "The Oak and the Ash." Baritone solos will be sung by Mr. A. Lungley. Miss Joyce Hould will recite "The Kings" (by Galsworthy) and "The Rider at the Gate" (Masefield). Popular instrumental music will be played by the 4YA Broadcasting Trio and there will be some specially chosen records.

SATURDAY evening's programme will be of the vaudeville type. Topical hits will be sung by Mr. Geo. Wiseman and popular songs by Miss Minna Ahlers. Miss D. Carty will sing, "Scenes that are Brightest," "The Song That Reached My Heart" and "They're Far, Far Away." Scottish humour will be provided by Mr. Buster Brown and other humour by Mr. Carl Moller.

Children's Sessions

AT 1YA.

TUESDAY, APRIL 30.—And now Uncle George what have you for us? Jolly stories and jokes as usual, and songs and piano items from some of our small entertainers.

WEDNESDAY.—May 1, May-Day, and it brings Uncle Tom, so Uncle Tom must be "Queen of the May." Uncle Tom will be in very good form to-night, and will have fairies with him to while away the hour.

THURSDAY.—Peter Pan has many interesting things for to-night, and we also hope to have a talk for the older boys and girls on suitable occupations to follow.

FRIDAY.—Nod and Aunt Jean at the helm, so all gather round for the Happy Hour. Cousins at the piano, and birthday greetings to the birthday folk.

SATURDAY.—Cinderella to-night. She has a great store of stories, jokes and puzzles. Several little cousins will also be present presenting a fairy play.

SUNDAY.—Children's Song Service conducted by Uncle Leo assisted by Beresford Street Sunday School.

AT 2YA.

MONDAY, April 29.—A cheery little programme for to-night. Miss Eva Hall is bringing down some clever cousins to entertain you and "Gumbo" will again tell one of his fairy stories. Uncle Jeff will ask puzzles and sing the good-night song.

TUESDAY.—The pupils of Miss McBain will give you a treat this evening—also Cousins Betty and Diana, and big Cousin Teddie will give another of his very interesting short lectures. Uncle Jim will send birthday greetings.

THURSDAY.—A splendid programme for this happy hour. The pupils of Mrs. Theo. Hills have lots of new recitations, songs and pianoforte items. Uncle George will send birthday greetings.

FRIDAY.—Mr. W. F. Aked has arranged for some little cousins to come this evening, also "The Story Book Lady." Big Brother Jack with greetings and the Happy Song will be here as usual.

SATURDAY.—Such a happy hour to-night. The pupils of Miss Edna Purdie will entertain with recitations, songs, etc. Uncle Toby will greet you in his own bright way and maybe he will sing to you.

SUNDAY.—The children's song service will be conducted by Uncle George, assisted by St. Peter's Choristers, under Mr. Short.

AT 4YA.

TUESDAY, April 30.—The first kind of music anybody played was the drum, and the thin music of the pipes made by blowing through a reed. We have had the Moray Place drum and fife band before, but they are good, and you can't have a good thing too often. So here they are again. And Mr. Announcer and Big Brother Bill swopping riddles. Letters and the radio postie of course.
