

Rev. W. Greenslade. Prior to the Christchurch broadcast there will be a half-hour's studio concert, and the church relay will be followed by a re-broadcast of 2YA.

ON Monday evening at 7.30 there will be a talk to farmers, when Dr. Chilton will review Bulletin No. 4, dealing with the winter feeding of cattle. A band concert, into which will be introduced a description of a wrestling match, will make a very interesting evening on Monday. The Woolston Band, under Mr. R. J. Estall, will play Old Hume's march, "Twentieth Century," and Rimmer's march, "Gallant and Gay," the overture "Raymond," a selection, "Sea Songs," Ketelby's "In a Persian Market," and a waltz, "Angelina." A trombone solo, "Drinking," will be played by Bandsman Williams, to band accompaniment. Bandsmen Ohlsen and Parsonage will play cornet and horn solos, to band accompaniment. The vocalists on Monday evening will include Mrs. Nora Puddey, a popular mezzo-contralto, and a singer new to radio, Miss Eve Polson, a pupil of Miss Annette Smith. Miss Polson possesses a fine mezzo-soprano voice. She is also a talented painter. Two splendid male voices will also be heard, Mr. C. R. Williamson (tenor) and Mr. A. Gladstone Brown (baritone). They will sing solos as well as duets.

SIR EDWARD GERMAN'S well-known light opera, "Tom Jones," will be given a radio presentation on Wednesday evening. All the principal vocal numbers will be sung by the Salon Quartet—Miss Corrie Aslin, Miss Dulcie Mitchell, Mr. H. Blakeley, and Mr. Graham Young. Instrumental selections from "Tom Jones" will be played by the Studio Octet under Mr. Harold Beck. Other numbers will be played by Miss Lucy Fullwood, pianiste.

ON Thursday at 7.30 p.m. Mr. R. McGillivray, Fields Superintendent of the Department of Agriculture, will give a talk on "Manuring of Crops." Thursday evening's programme will include numerous classical numbers. The performers will be the Studio Octet under Mr. Harold Beck, and the Melodious Four. The vocal numbers will include solo as well as concerted items. The programme to be presented will be an excellent one.

ON Friday evening the demonstration concert in connection with the Temuka Musical Competitions will be relayed.

A VARIED programme of the vaudeville type will be presented on Saturday evening. Mr. Fred Hale, singer of popular songs, and Mr. Alan W. Brown, well known on the local theatrical stage as an elocutionary entertainer, will contribute, also Mr. Geo. Titchener, humorist. Miss Millicent Jennings will give a very interesting lecture-recital on "Lullabies of Many Lands," illustrated with vocal and instrumental numbers by Miss Jennings.

Miss Dorothy Davies, Miss Irene Morris, and Mr. Harold Beck. Also contributing to the evening's programme will be the Joyous Pair, who will sing jazz songs at the piano with ukulele accompaniment.

4YA Features

THE service to be conducted in Trinity Methodist Church will be relayed on Sunday evening. The Rev. H. E. Bellhouse will be the preacher. A studio concert of specially selected records will follow.

"THE MAID OF THE MOUNTAINS," the well-known light opera, will form the principal attraction on Monday evening, when the chief vocal numbers will be sung by the 4YA Harmonists. There will be an excellent supporting programme, which will include another recital by Mr. Angus Gorrie in his series, "With the Poets." On this occasion he will take Alfred Noyes.

THE Kaikorai Band, under Mr. T. Kirk-Burnand, will provide Tuesday evening's programme. The assisting vocal artists will be Miss Valda McCurdy, Mr. R. A. Mitchell and Mr. Les Stubbs. They will present a number of popular old songs. Recitations will be given by Miss Tui Northey.

ON Wednesday evening the entertainment will be supplied by the Four Aces Concert Party.

THE vocalists for Friday evening will be Miss Rae Stubbs (soprano), Miss Gwendal Burt (contralto), Mr. H. Drew (tenor), and Mr. G. M. Salmon (baritone). The instrumentalists will be the Studio Trio.

ON Saturday evening there will be a relay from 3YA.

Children's Sessions

AT 1YA.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 29.—There'll be some lusty choruses, for the Mount Albert Grammar School boys are coming. And can't they sing! Be prepared for a 'ceeding-ly happy hour, with these boys in front of the microphone with Uncle George.

WEDNESDAY.—Here we are with Uncle Tom once again—cousins will have songs and many other things to while away the hour.

THURSDAY.—All aboard for the Radio Exhibition. Yes, we are going to conduct the Children's Session from the Town Hall, where the Exhibition is.

FRIDAY.—Still at the Town Hall, to-night with Nod and Aunt Jean. The Maori girls from Queen Victoria College will provide the programme with tuneful Maori songs and Poi dances.

SATURDAY.—Everybody on exhibition this evening, for all the Uncles and Aunts will be there. Why? It's our second birthday, of course, and don't miss listening whatever you do, for there's going to be plenty of fun.

SUNDAY.—Children's Song Service conducted by Uncle Leo, assisted by Beresford Street Sunday School.

AT 2YA

MONDAY, OCTOBER 28.—Cousin Oscar is coming to play some merry tunes on his saxophone to-night, also Ailsa, who always sings such delightful songs for Radioland. Birthday greetings and a puzzle to think about, from Uncle Jeff.

TUESDAY.—Some new cousins are coming for this hour, the cousins of the Revellers' Band. So listen in for some jolly music. Two of Miss Joy Hoare's clever little pupils will play pianoforte solos. Birthday messages from Uncle Jim.

THURSDAY.—Some new little cousins, the pupils of Miss Rastall, will give music and song at the Children's Hour to-night, and Uncle George will be here with the birthday greetings.

FRIDAY.—Mrs. W. G. McCartie's pupils are coming to entertain Radioland to-night. Cousin Margaret will be here, too, with song and poem. Messages to the birthday folk will be given by Brother Jack.

SATURDAY.—Cousins Doris and Irene will sing and recite to-night, children, and Cousin Herbert will play jolly music on his oboe. Uncle Toby and Aunt Gwen will say "Many happy returns of the day" to the little ones who have birthdays.

SUNDAY.—The children's Song Service will be conducted by Uncle George, assisted by St. Matthew's Sunday School choir, under Rev. P. Houghton.

AT 3YA

MONDAY, OCTOBER 28.—Ever drifted down the Nile? No? Well, tune in to-night and listen to Scatterjoy, as she takes you a little trip down this wonderful river of Romance and History. Dreamy music over the waters, and sweet singing by the Melody Maids.

WEDNESDAY.—This is the night Mother Hubbard and Uncle Frank sing their little folk songs which we hope you are all learning and will join in with. Stories for all.

THURSDAY.—Uncle John with his gramophone box. The adventures of the Inkwell Fairy, and songs by Uncle Charlie.

FRIDAY.—Storyman back from his voyages, and ready to tell you his experiences. Songs, choruses and music by the Opawa School Choir.

SATURDAY.—Mister "Chuckle" with us again to-night, and ready to charm you all, and Aunt Pat helping to make this hour a happy one.

SUNDAY.—Our Children's Song Service, conducted by the Presbyterian Sunday School.

Radio in Other Lands

ALMOST regularly once a year, France endeavours to bring herself level with other countries in the matter of broadcasting, by an attempt to reorganise her entire radio system. A new Bill, which will be discussed early in 1930, calls for two high-power low-frequency stations, capable of being received over the whole of Europe; ten smaller transmitters to maintain an efficient service to the country; and, finally, a number of relay stations for regional purposes. The entire organisation is to be under control of the State.

SOMETHING new in the development of radiovision is an apparatus designed to transmit aeroplane views of panoramic scenes to a ground receiving station. This equipment is under construction at Washington, and its inventor hopes to test it shortly in a special 'plane. The "aerial radiovision eye" will record the visual scenes by means of a scanning disc, light-sensitive cell, and broadcasting apparatus, and the panoramas will be received on a standard radiovision receiving set. It is believed that the invention would be of great value in time of war, as the general headquarters of an army, though situated perhaps miles behind the front line, would have a continuous aerial view of all operations.

THE theft of portable sets from English wireless factories is becoming a somewhat common practice, states "Wireless World." The sets are often offered on an alleged hire-purchase system to an unsuspecting buyer, who is asked to pay a deposit, which, he is told, entitles him to retain the receiver for three months. He is led to believe that after this period has elapsed the first of ten monthly instalments for the balance will be collected. Needless to say, the thief never calls again for this, and the purchaser is left with a stolen receiver on his hands.

IT is intended to install an "inverter" at the experimental short-wave station, near St. Cyr, in France. The object of this apparatus is to prevent telephone messages being picked up by promiscuous listeners, and this result is achieved by inverting the frequencies of the speech sounds so that high notes become correspondingly low and low ones high. A specially-designed receiving equipment reconverts the frequencies to normal. Wireless eavesdroppers, therefore, who may chance to pick it up will probably think they have logged a Chinese station broadcasting political speeches.
