An interesting feature in regard to this debate is the fact that both participants are particularly distinguished authorities on the subject on which they speak.

SIR NORMAN ANGELL has an enviable reputation in Europe and

SOUTH AFRICA has introduced a scale of licence fees graduated by distances from nearest stations. Owners of receivers pay £1/15/- if they are within 100 miles of a station, £1/5/- for from 100 to 250 miles, and beyond that £1. There is another graduated scale, from £5/5/- to £11/15/- for hotels, boarding-houses, and cafes.
