

TUNE IN TO...

From the New Zealand Stations.

TWO young New Zealanders of considerable talent continue their tours of the New Zealand national broadcasting stations next week—the first, Mr. Vincent Aspey, a violinist of note, the second, Mr. Denis Dowling, a baritone with a voice that has been recognised overseas. Lionello Cecil, probably the best operatic tenor to be heard in this country in a decade, will sing from 1YA during the coming week. The Berlin State Opera House Orchestra will be heard from 3YA on Wednesday evening in a programme of Beethoven's compositions. "The Immortal Pavlova" is the title of a special programme from 1YA on Thursday. It will consist of music to which Pavlova danced.

In Melbourne and Sydney.

THE ageless favourite, "Peg O' My Heart," adapted for radio and produced by Lawrence H. Cecil, is to be presented from 2FC, Sydney, next Sunday evening. Agnes Doyle, clever little Australian actress, will be Peg. On the following Thursday, from the same station "Eccles Cakes, Limited," a modern romantic comedy specially written for the celebrated Ada Reeve by Edmund Barclay will be presented. There are to be two broadcasts of grand opera by 3LO from His Majesty's Theatre, Melbourne, next week. The first, on Wednesday, will probably be Bizet's "The Pearl Fishers," and the second, "La Boheme," will be presented on Friday.

From the Empire Stations (Daventry).

THE B.B.C. Empire Orchestra, led by Laniel Melsa and conducted by Eric Fogg, is again prominently featured in the Empire programmes for the coming week. On Tuesday the orchestra is to present a Coleridge-Taylor programme, on Thursday there is to be a programme of light music, while on Saturday the orchestra will present a special Schubert programme. St. Patrick's Day is to be celebrated with Irish songs and music on Sunday evening, one of the performers being the writer, Lynn Doyle, reading his own short story, "The Foot-warmer." There is to be a recording of the running commentary on the England versus Scotland Rugby game on Monday, and special Imperial Press Conference speeches by General Smuts and others from Cape Town on the following Friday.

From the German Stations (Berlin).

"DECISIVE Moments in German History" is the title of a series of talks to be given from the German shortwave stations. The first of these, "Spirit and Meaning of the Day of Potsdam" will be presented on Thursday evening of next week. On Sunday next there is to be a special symphony concert in which the works of Mozart and Beethoven will be prominently featured. "An Hour in the Homeland" is the title of a programme to be relayed from Hamburg next Tuesday.
