

The Governor-General of Victoria, Lord Huntingfield, who is to be welcomed by the Independent Order of Rechabite at a Centenary Concert in the Melbourne Town Hall on Monday evening. Station 3AR will broadcast the ceremony.

General Evangeline Booth (below), head of the Salvation Army, who is at present on a world tour. She is to be given a public welcome in the Melbourne Town Hall at 10 p.m. (N.Z.S.T.) on Wednesday and the event will be broadcast by 3AR.

Two of the most delightful idiots in the broadcasting world to-day—Claude and Jack Hulbert (below). The Hulbert brothers are equally famous on the stage and in talking pictures, Jack Hulbert's latest film, "The Camels are Coming," having been lately screened in New Zealand. The brothers will be heard in a recording from 4YA on Wednesday next at 8.9 p.m.

..Edith Lorand (above), the Hungarian violinist whose name is now a household word, thanks to broadcasting and the gramophone. Her Viennese orchestra is now an established favourite on the air... She is a native of Budapest, and from the age of six Miss Lorand has cherished one love—her fiddle. She is, too, a gifted linguist, speaking French, English, English, and Italian.

Karl Atkinson (bottom right) is a prominent figure in musical circles in Wellington. Mr. Atkinson, who is also the president of the Yorkshire Society, will be heard in a lecture recital, "Pictures and Music," from 2YA on Monday evening. He is attached to the head office staff of the New Zealand Broadcasting Board and is a regular contributor to the "Radio Record."—An S. P. Andrew photo.

Lottie Colville (right), the young Christchurch soprano, who will be heard in a group of songs from 3YA next Saturday evening at 9.6. Miss Colville is well-known in the Canterbury musical world and has been a prize-winner at many competitions.—A Stefano Webb photo.
