

BEGAN AS PIANIST

ELSIE SUDDERBY, one of England's sweetest singers, started her musical career as a pianist, and won the Gold Medal of the Associated Board and the Diploma of Associate of the R.C.M. Indeed, in those days, she hardly realised that she had a voice. What is more curious is that her friends thought that she had a contralto voice, and when, at length she decided to have singing lessons, and first went to Sir E. C. (then Dr.) Baristow, organist at York Minster, she sang him two contralto songs. He, however, at once perceived that her voice was capable of considerable expansion, and eventually trained her so that she was able to sing soprano parts for all the choral societies in the country. Her singing of Bach is particularly delightful.

FROM TYNESIDE

DR. EDGAR BAINTON is one of those distinguished musicians of the day who look back gratefully to having enjoyed Sir Charles Stanford's teaching at the Royal College—almost a diploma in itself. Following a successful term as Principal of the Newcastle-on-Tyne Conservatoire, he was appointed Director of the New South Wales State Conservatorium of Music in Sydney. As a conductor, Edgar Bainton has done much to improve the standard of music in the north of England. Verily Newcastle-on-Tyne's loss is Sydney's gain. His published works include a symphony, "Before Sunrise," for contralto solo, chorus and orchestra; a "Concerto-Fantasia," for pianoforte and orchestra; "The Tower," and "A Hymn to God the Father," for chorus and orchestra.

THE plutocrat does not have the best of everything. Poor miserable brute, he has to put up with only having everything.—Mr. G. K. Chesterton.

"GOLDEN HOUR" COMPETITION NO. 3

£50

MUST BE WON

FIRST PRIZE - £40

 For Correct or Nearest Correct Solution.

SECOND PRIZE £10

For Next Nearest.

INSTRUCTIONS: To complete the puzzle:—Each picture represents ONE WORD ONLY, and each picture has a DIFFERENT word. You find these words by reading what appears alongside each picture and then refer to the picture itself. For example: Look at Picture No. 1. Alongside it you see "The sleeper was" and the picture represents "PLACED" making "The sleeper was PLACED" Now carry on and when you get to the last picture you will have a sentence about "An attempted train wreck" taken from a N.Z. Daily Paper. The sentence is simple and easily followed. When you have completed your solution write it down on one side of a sheet of paper, add your name and address, enclose entry fee, and post no later than Tuesday, March 26.

NOTE: Picture No. 4. Fish plates is a piece of metal used on rails and the word has been given so as not to cause any confusion.

In the event of a tie the prize will be divided, but the full £50 will, of course, be paid. Two winning attempts can win two prizes, or if prizes are divided one share in each. Sealed solution and prize money is deposited with N.Z. TRUTH LTD. Any number of attempts can be sent in the one envelope. Results will be published in this paper on April 3rd. (If you are unable to purchase postal notes, penny stamps to the value of 1/1 for first attempt and 6d for each additional attempt will be accepted.)

N.B.—In composing this puzzle every effort has been made to avoid true alternatives, and it is believed that there are none. Should, however, competitors consider there are any, they are advised to submit additional entries. Test your skill in this simple puzzle to-day.
