the post until he reached the patriarchal age of 95!

And well does J. T. Frye, the Essex boy-organist, deserve commemoration in the stained-glass window erected to his memory in the church to which he went as a boy of eight in 1820 to serve the Parish Church, Saffron Walden, for no less than 64 years!

There is a familiar ring about the following extract from the 1868 files of the "Hertford Mercury" anent the 90th birthday of Mr. Bridgeman referred to above. The "Mercury" of nearly 70 years ago says: "Everything changes now, and church music is not what it was. Some young people like the psalms played to jig tunes, and musicians of the old classical school don't like it. Our venerable nonagenarian organist always was of that school, and those who love its music—sweet, solemn, reverent and chaste—are still refreshed by performances which have lost but little of the grace and beauty which made Mr. Bridgeman eminent in years gone by."

Much the same may be said of Mr. Robert Parker, C.M.G., New Zealand's "Grand Old Man of Music."

THE public is developing a terrific thirst for a long, cool swig of political quiescence.—Professor Moley.
