

A.M.P. Bonus Distribution £5,100,000

HIS week the Society distributes £5,100,000 in Reversionary Bonuses, on all participating policies in force on 31st December last. These bonuses represent a cash value of £3,044,141. They mean that participating members in the ordinary department are receiving back, in cash or its equivalent reversionary bonuses, an average of 44.4 per cent. of the premiums they paid last year.

Last year was a difficult year for most people, yet the Society issued new policies to the amount of £24,000,000, bringing the number of policies to 1,150,582, and the sums assured in force at 31st December to £241,541,761, both figures being records in the history of the Society.

The A.M.P. grows from strength to strength. Every member's policy is backed by $101,669,000 of conservatively valued assets. Wise is the member who adds to his policies, and so uses the Society's strength to build up his own assets. In the past five years the Society has paid out £31,859,941 to its policy holders; more than six millions a year.

A.M.P. policies (1) provide for wives and families in the event of breadwinners' deaths, (2) provide incomes for old age, (3) educate children, (4) pay off mortigages, (5) make secure the home, (6) give men and women peace of mind, all at the lowest possible cost consistent with impregnable security.

An experienced adviser will gladly be sent to discuss the benefits of A.M.P. membership with any citizen living within a reasonable distance of any A.M.P. office. Send work to-day that YOU want to see one
