of appreciation from country listeners concerning the Wednesday performances. The total proceeds are being devoted to the Mayor's Metropolitan Unemployment Relief Committee. The response by the public so far has been better than for three years.

Tenacity Tells

ROY FOX and his Band are featured at station 3YA on Tuesday, July 21, with guitar duets by Ivor Mairants and Albert Harris as interludes. One of their duets—"Spring Fever"—was composed by Mairants. Roy Fox was known in America as "the whispering cornetist." He went to England, and later opened at the Monseigneur Restaurant with an all-Star British Band. When ill-health compelled him to give up the cornet, he had built up a reputation in England for charm and capability as a band leader. He is now touring English music halls with his act, which includes Mary Lee and Bobby Joy. He also stars a combination known as the Three Cubs, which have banded together as a vocal trio since 1930. One of the Cubs is Ivor Mairants, the famous guitarist.

Yodelling

A TYPE of music which we do not hear very often in New Zealand, that of yodelling, will be somewhat revived from 2YA on Saturday, July 25, when G. D. Hall, a Wellington man, will sing several numbers, accompanying himself on a guitar. Really good yodelling is an art and is very fascinating, but it needs an atmosphere to it. We sometimes get it through the pictures with the singer sitting beside a campfire, dressed in the way-out-West costume. Or, better still, when the hero is sitting alone on the top of some wild and woolly country sending his voice echoing and re-echoing in the valleys.

From Stage to Air

YOU will remember that little Scottish comedienne who travelled round with the Long Tack Sam Company. Her name was Dora Lindsay. She was one of the most popular turns in the show, and her Palais de Danse and the characterisation of the little girl who was simple. In particular, were very un-self-consciously done. She has now been booked for a six weeks' tour of the national stations some time in August, and will appear in both charity and concert work.

Hebridean Folk Songs

A CONTRALTO of Wellington in the person of Christina Young is featured in the programme for Friday, July 24, from 2YA with two songs at 9.19, and a further bracket at 9.51. These will be Hebridean folk songs and ballads, and they are following in the train of the brilliant series given early this year by that charming Scot, Miss Russell-Fergusson, who, with her harp, roused the public consciousness to this delightful music.

Farewell

IT was announced recently in the "Radio Record" that the Russian pianist, Paul Vinogradoff, who has been in New Zealand for four or five years, would be leaving for Australia
