They Tell Me That...

lance.

Robert Cummings's Para-August. Since then he has land in three years.

already won high praise in the In "The Three Musketeers," he already won high praise in the is creating another historical charance in a Republic picture, "I Stand Accused."
Now Universal have chosen him to be Deanna Durbin's leading

ROBERT CUMMINGS Deanna Durbin's leading man.

man in "Three Smart Girls Grow Up." They have cannily signed him up for that one picture, with options.

Joe Pasternak, brilliant producer of the Durbin films, has great faith in Cummings and means, if he shows up well with Deanna, to develop him rapidly to stardom.

Filmgoers have known Cummings as a promising and versa-tile actor since his debut, three years ago, in "So Red the Rose."

Twirl 'Em, Cary

"A HUNDRED says you haven't the nerve to do it," Douglas Fairbanks wagered. "A hundred says I have," came back Cary Grant. The bet was on. Grant was off to London with that comical bicycle-built-for-two moustache.

At Kansas City, Cary wired back to Doug (about to embark, himself), "Well, the old handle bars are still on."

It was still on, in modified form, when Grant reached New York and the amazed shores of England. So Doug lost his bet.

The New Disraeli

character actor, is considering three offers from London producers to play Disraeli on the British stage. The proposals folution of the character actor, is considered to Los Angeles police.

The negro dancer's car, driven by ducers to play Disraeli on the a chauffeur, collided with another British stage. The proposals folutions of the character actor is considered to the character actor. the famous British statesman in nia football player.

NCE again an actor who "Suez." Although his scenes were has been wasted for three weeks and actor who should be a brought him the praise of the three years under conmost hardened critics in New tract has won a chance York, London and other cities.

In no time at all as a freeconsider the offers as soon as he finishes "The Three Musketeers" at the 20th Century-Fox. The trip mount contract petered out in will be his first one to his native > acter, Cardinal Richelieu, who matches wits with Don Ameche as D'Artagnan in the Alexandre Dumas tale.

Crossword Puzzle

G-H-O-T-I spells fish.

And Henry Koster can prove it. He proved it to the satisfac-tion of Deanna Durbin, Nan Grey and Helen Parrish, whom he is directing at Universal studios in "Three Smart Girls Grow Up."

While the youngsters were studying their lessons on the set, Koster ing their lessons on the set, Koster asked them what the letters ghot-i spelled. They gave up. "They spell fish," he declared, "Say out loud the 'gh' from 'enough,' the 'o' from 'women' and the 'ti' from 'nation.' Put them all together—pronounce them—and you've got 'fish'!" he explained.

Dancer in Gaol

BILL ROBINSON, famous negro dancer, who coaches Shirley Temple and other film stars, is an important individual in the studios,

SHIRLEY STILL TOP

Best Box-Office Stars of 1938

TEN biggest box-office stars of the year, in America, ed by "Motion Picture listed by "Motion Picture Herald" in its annual poll of 10,000 independent U.S. theatre owners, and represent-ing for the first time stars of only two of Hollywood's major companies are as follow:

- 1. Shirley Temple (20th Century-Fox). 2. Clark Gable (M-G-M).
- Sonja Henie (20th Century-
- Fox). Mickey Rooney (M-G-M).
- 5. Spencer Tracy (M-G-M). 6. Robert Taylor (M-G-M). 7. Myrna Loy (M-G-M).
- Jane Withers (20th Cen-
- tury-Fox). 9. Alice Faye (20th Century-
- Fox).
- 10. Tyrone Power (20th Century-Fox).

MILES MANDER, the noted but just another pugnacious person

lowed Mander's interpretation of fat, University of Southern Califor-

MORE ABOUT DOCTORS.—A new revolution of the medical film cycle begins with "Young Dr. Kildare." Ayres (Dr. Kildare), Lionel Barrymore and Lynne Carver will figure in this new series from M.G.M.

JOAN BENNETT--OR HEDY LA MARR?

LOOK left, look right—and then say, without stopping to think, if it's the same girl.

Correct. It is-Joan Bennett. At first glance, though, the brunette might very easily be mistaken for Hedy La Marr (exotic beauty of "Algiers"). That's the effect of the dark coiffure which the normally blonde Miss Bennett assumes in United Artists' "Trade Winds." She also changes her screen personality, becomes a globetrotting adventuress sought by Detective Fredric March.

Robinson and Moffat had an alter-stroyed in a big scene in which the ation, and the football player Monster, Boris Karloff, went on a "Pygmalion" Breaks cation, and the football player pushed the dancer back into his car. Whereupon, according police, Robinson produced a to volver and struck Moffat on the head, resulting in injuries that required medical attention.

The police took the negro dancer to gaol, charging him with assault with a deadly weapon.

Monstrous Havoc

F, and when, Universal studios ever want to make another Frankenstein picture, there will be a pretty bill for replacements. Practically all the weird array of scientific instruments, used in the creation of the Frankenstein Monster, were completely derampage.

The instruments, high-voltage transformers, spark-gaps and other scientific apparatus, were ori-ginally used in "Frankenstein" and in "The Bride of Franken-stein," without suffering damage. When production was started on "Son of Frankenstein" the sevenyear-old props were dusted off and used again in the laboratory sequences.

The smashing-up sequences, which occur near the end of the picture, were filmed by five cameras at one time.

"We couldn't have any re-takes," Producer-Director Rowland V. Lee explained.

Australian Reçords

THE most conspicuous success of the moment in Sydney and in Melbourne is Bernard Shaw's comedy, "Pymgalion," a G.B.D. attraction, which, at the Atheneum Theatre, Melbourne, in face of the drawbacks of bush fires and abnormal heat, has broken all previous records, including those established years ago by "Sunshine Susie" and "Tell Me To-night." At Susie" and "Tell Me To-night." At the new Victory Theatre in Sydney, audiences are reported to be packing the theatre at all sessions. The Melbourne "Argus" applauds the presentation as "perfect."

THE GREATEST EVER

THE LAUGH SENSATION OF THE CENTURY

A slice of London life in comic vein. To be shown in all Amalgamated Theatres in New Zealand. Coming with honours thick upon it from its amazing unbroken triumphs at London, throughout the great mining and industrial centres of England, at Sydney, Melbourne and Brisbane.

IT SMASHES RECORDS EVERYWHERE.

MODERN ---

— UP-TO-DATE

The outstanding of all stage successes now becomes the gayest, most audacious of all screen comedy hits.

"A" certificate.

Passed by the world's Censors without a "cut."

All the rich plums are left in the pudding.

IT IS DELICIOUS!

IT APPEALS TO EVERY LIVING SOUL.

Patronise theatres screening 20th Century-Fox and G.B.D. attractions.