

A GIFT OF NATION-WIDE ENTERTAINMENT. RADIO

All About the All-Electric

A handy reference book crammed with invaluable information for the Amateur and Professional. Written in an easy-to-understand way for New Zealand listeners.

Some of the articles:

Choosing an All-Electric Set.
Power and A.C. Valves.
A.B.C. Battery Eliminators.
A.C. Crystal Set Amplifier.
How to Convert Your Set.
Pick-up Adjustment.
Building the Four-Valve A.C.
Browning-Drake.
A.C. Power Amplifier.
Speakers for All-Electric Sets.
List of Stations (over 300).

Price 1/6

(Posted 1/9.)

Obtainable from All Radio Dealers and Booksellers.

YOURS to command! Just the touch of a switch, a turn of a dial, when the day's work is done, and one by one the stations are heard. Perhaps we would like music, jazz, or maybe operatic selection. "Tired of music? Let's hear about the fight!" and then, seeking something different, we tune in to a description of dirt track racing, and so the night is spent. The stations are closing down. "God Save the King" comes over the air, and we retire to rest after enjoying the cheapest and most comprehensive range of entertainment that it is possible to obtain.

To assist you in choosing your entertainment, the "Radio Record and Electric Home Journal" publishes the full week's programmes of all the A-class New Zealand broadcasting stations, and together with its technical and mail-bag features make it indispensable to the set owner.

The electrical home section provides the woman of the house with hints in the use of electricity. Recipes, and invaluable home hints are there in abundance. Order your copy now!

3d. A Copy from all 3d. Newsagents and Radio Dealers.

The Radio Listener's Guide

1929-30 EDITION.

Deals with wireless conditions in New Zealand, giving full details and descriptions of radio matters.

The main sections are:—

Radio in New Zealand.
Wireless from the Technical Aspect.
Multi-Valve Receivers.
Aerials, Earths and Accessories.
Short-wave Reception.
Trouble Tracking.
Reference Section.
Glossary of Radio Terms and Names.

Price 2/6

(Posted 2/9.)

Obtainable from All Radio Dealers and Booksellers.

PUBLISHED BY

"The RADIO RECORD & ELECTRIC HOME JOURNAL"

G.P.O. Box 1032, WELLINGTON