

New Zealand Four, a quartet of popular male singers.

Christchurch Items

JAZZ songs at the piano by the Joyous Pair, sketches by The Mascots, contralto solos by Miss Kathleen Bond, cornet solos by Mr. R. Ohlsen, and selections by the Studio Octet, under Mr. Harold Beck, will comprise 3YA's popular concert.

From Dunedin

THE talk to be given at 3.15 p.m. from 4YA by the Home Science Extension Department of Otago University will be on "Boys' and Girls' Clubs." At 7.15 p.m. the president of the Dunedin Chamber of Commerce, Mr. A. C. Cameron, will speak on "New Zealand Produce on the World's Markets."

A song cycle by Liza Lehmann, "More Daisies," will be sung by the Harmonists, who will also contribute to the supporting programme.

THURSDAY

Bringing Out Best Points

THE afternoon talk, prepared by the Home Science Extension Department of Otago University, from 1YA, 2YA and 3YA will be on "How to Bring Out Your Best Points."

From 1YA

MR. HAROLD BAXTER and his Orchestral Octet, a very popular combination with 1YA listeners, will present an attractive programme this evening, including a selection from "Iolanthe." Miss Hope Asher, a talented young mezzo-soprano, will be heard in a group of ballads, and a new combination of artists, "The Royal Trio," will broadcast excerpts from the musical comedy "The Bing Boys Are Here." Two short lecture-recitals on the latest recordings will be given by a commentator, and Miss Marian Irving (elocutionist) will entertain listeners with a group of humorous recitations.

Wellington Features

THE concert will be given by the Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve Band and assisting artists. A feature of the programme will be the rendition of four songs written by Mr. Joseph W. Carr, of Wellington, who will himself play the accompaniments with Mr. Allon Carr rendering a violin obbligato.

The singers will be Mr. Roy Hill and Mr. W. Binet Brown, two members of the Lyric Quartet, who with Miss Veronica MacKenzie (soprano), will provide the vocal portion of the evening's programme.

Notes from 3YA

THE evening's programme has been arranged by Miss Nellie Hayward who, with Miss Kathleen Garven, are well-known teachers of music in Christchurch. The programme will be provided by artists from their studio, assisted by the Christchurch Broadcasting Trio. The concert, which will be of a operatic-classical nature, will conclude with the singing of a part song by eight voices, "Julia's Garden."

FRIDAY

Items from 1YA

THE whole of the second part of 1YA's programme will consist of the presentation of a one-act play, "Pro and Cons," written by Kenneth Barnes and produced by Mr. J. W. Bailey and his company. There are three scenes in the play: "Man Proposes," "Woman Espouses," and "God Disposes."

Auckland is fortunate in its galaxy of producers of delightful plays, which are so welcome to listeners generally. In the first half of the programme listeners can again look forward to some bright entertainment from Frank Wade and His Melody Boys, who will broadcast novelty vocal and instrumental items. On her last appearance at 1YA, Miss Dylvia Dobbs made an instant success with her singing, and this evening she will be heard again in some delightful ballads.

2YA Programme

THE concert session will be of a varied and interesting nature.

A banjo quintet under the direction of Mr. Jack Farrell will be new to listeners. The members of this combination are all vocalists, and their numbers accompanied by themselves should be very attractive.

Christchurch Topics

CONCERTED numbers will be sung by the Valencia Quartet in the presenting of a variety programme this evening. Duets and solos will also be presented, among the latter being "I Heard You Singing," "Lorraine," and "The Song of the Wagoner." As cello solos, Mr. Harold Beck will play Popper's "Serenade" and the "Prize Song" from Wagner's "Meistersingers." English concertina duets will be played by Theo and Frances Gunther, and there will be selections by the Christchurch Broadcasting Trio.

4YA Items

A PROGRAMME of old-time dance tunes and old-time melodies will be provided by 4YA, given by Mr. C. D. Dagg's Band, which specialises in this type of entertainment.

SATURDAY

Notes from 1YA

THE station will be on the air from noon in order to broadcast the results of the races conducted by the Takapuna Jockey Club. Items by the Octet, under the direction of Mr. Harold Baxter, will include a selection from "The Show Boat," and the "Lightning Switch" (by Alford). Miss Buntly Stuart, a very fine contralto, who has appeared several times at the Australian broadcasting stations, and is not unknown to New Zealand, having toured here professionally some time ago, will be heard in several numbers. She makes a speciality of Scottish songs.

Wellington Items

A PROGRAMME of high-class vaudeville will be presented to-night. The Salon Orchestra, under Mr. M. T. Dixon, will be heard in a number of varied pieces, including "Pique Dame" overture, "No, No, Nanette," and Grainger's novelette, "Country Garden."

A sketch by H. E. Lucas entitled "Passengers" will be featured. This sketch has been specially adapted for the microphone and listeners will be surprised and thrilled at the climax.

Mrs. R. Sierakowski (a favourite soprano singer from 3YA) will also be heard in the popular type of song: "Just a Cottage Small" (by Hanley), "Dream Lover" (by Schertzing), and "I Love to Hear You Singing" (by Wood).

From Christchurch

MRS. C. E. McDOWELL, a popular soprano who has many concert successes to her credit, will make her first appearance at 3YA, singing excerpts from musical comedies. Miss Elaine Moody and her Hawaiian Quartet will present some of the latest popular airs, with vocal refrains by Miss Moody.

MOLLIE FENTON,
a mezzo-contralto, who will sing duets with Miss Lalla Vondersloot from 3YA on February 1.
