LAURIE ANDERSON MISTER HEARTBREAK

Mister Heartbreak is the followup to Laurie Anderson's critically and popularly acclaimed 1982 album Big Science.
Contributing talents include: King Crimson guitarist Adrian Belew, the infamous Peter Gabriel and funkmaster Nile Rodgers.
Mr Heartbreak is full of such eclectic instruments as plywood, the electronic Conch Cameroonian, double bells — and lyas, Ikonkolas and Shekeres.
Laurie Anderson also plays Vocoder, Synclavier, Violin, Whistle, bells and vocal chords.

CHRISTINE McVIE

"We recorded a lot of the basic tracks in the big hall where they hold the Montreaux Jazz Festival and we got some great live drum sounds."
"I flew to England and stayed with Stevie Winwood at his house in Gloucester where he has a beautiful new studio in a converted barn. After we had socked back a few pints at his local pub the songs came really easily."

Contributing musicians include: Lindsey Buckingham
Ray Cooper Eric Clapton
Mick Fleetwood

"This is my first solo album in a long long time, and I'm very happy with it."
CHRISTINE McVIE, DEC 1983.
