

KIM FOWLEY wishes to thank Barry Forrester, David Moule and the staff of RCA Records, Glyn Tucker and all the gang at Mandrill Studios, Wally Ransom at Southern Music and rock'n'writers at 'Rip It Up' Magazine, for all the help they gave me in discovering the Crocodiles and assisting Glyn Tucker in producing the single and the album, "TEARS" — which both hit No. 17 on the New Zealand Sales Charts.

I am still returning to New Zealand and would like to do it again with the right New Zealand group or single artist or songwriter. If you are interested, please send a letter and cassette to KIM FOWLEY care of:
