Why?

Your ears aren't being challenged by the radio! You read about incredible new stuff but all you hear is that same track all day. Still there's hope yet. The record companies are finding that the "Big Guys" aren't always selling as they used to. To their credit they are starting to release a wider variety of material. The problem is the price tag and the lack of exposure ensures many new exciting releases don't receive due recognition.

By heavily discounting and promising ALL new releases for a limited period, the Record Warehouse hopes to give its customers a little more freedom of decision to widen their tastes. We'll give as much information as possible on upcoming albums, our best picks and all our staff are more than happy to play music that may interest YOU.
