DAVID FANSHAW African Sanctus

African Sanctus is an unorthodox setting of the Latin mass integrated with authentic traditional African music recorded by David Fanshawe on his legendary journeys up the River Nile (1969-73) through Egypt, Sudan, Uganda, Kenya and Tanzania. In this work, one experiences many cultures performing in harmony and counterpoint together, expressing the composer's credo "One World - One Music".

RORY McLEOD Travelling Home

The self-taught one-man-soul-band, Rory McLeod, is about to head to New Zealand for a series of special performances. A world music phenomenon, Rory has travelled across five continents over the past twelve years, sustained by natural troubadours talent for weaving magical, musical storytelling spells and accompanied by his own bizarre solo orchestra of distinctive instruments. Having been compared to Billy Bragg, the songs on Travelling Home come straight from personal experience with that distinctive Cockney twang.
