

- 65 B37b NO 90/2284, 91/353.
- 66 B37c NO 91/414, 91/750.
- 67 B37c NO 91/414, 91/750.
- 68 A70, A. Atkinson to Mary White, 21 May 1891, and 23 June 1891; Private Journal, Attachments, A. Atkinson to Mary White, 29 April 1891.
- 69 B37c NO 91/971.
- 70 B37c NO 91/1820, 91/2085, 91/2417; Polynesian Society records, acc. 80-115 (hereinafter Acc. 80-115), box 3n, ATL, Graham to S. P. Smith, 12 March 1919.
- 71 Evening Post, 20 August 1887, p. 5.
- 72 B37d NO 88/2174; New Zealand Mail, 9 September 1887, pp. 30-31.
- 73 Evening Post, 24 August 1887.
- 74 A70, A. Atkinson to White, 25 October 1887. There is a set of The Ancient History in the ATL with corrections by Atkinson similar to those described in his letter.
- 75 A75a, Tregear to White, 26 August 1887.
- 76 A69, Wallis to White, 7 November 1887; A69, Oliver to White, 30 November 1887.
- 77 PS/211, S. P. Smith, 'Presidential Address to Auckland Institute 1888', [the New Zealand Herald?], 4 June 1888.
- 78 PS/145, S. P. Smith to Carroll, 7 July 1889.
- 79 Acc. 80-115, box 3h, S. P. Smith to Leverd, 3 August 1916.
- 80 New Zealand Mail, 9 September 1887, pp. 30-31.
- 81 A76, Tregear to White, 14 and 27 March 1888.
- 82 New Zealand Times, 22 March 1888, p. 5.
- 83 The reviews were reprinted in the fifth and sixth volumes of The Ancient History.
- 84 E. B. Tylor, review of The Ancient History of the Maori vol. I-IV, in The English Historical Review, 5 (1890), 391-92.
- 85 D. R. Simmons, 'The Sources of Sir George Grey's Nga Mahi a Nga Tupuna', in The Great New Zealand Myth (Wellington, 1976), pp. 363-70.
- 86 The following two paragraphs are taken from Reilly, 'John White: An Examination of His Use of Maori Oral Tradition . . .' pp. 326-53, 360-68.

Attention is drawn to two further articles by the author concerning John White. They are 'John White: the Making of a Nineteenth-Century Writer and Collector of Maori Tradition', New Zealand Journal of History, 23 (October 1989), 157-72; and 'John White. Part II: Seeking the Elusive Mōhio: White and his Maori Informants', NZJH, 24 (April 1990), 45-55.

Notes on Contributors

SHEILA BOX is an Australian journalist who lives in Castlemaine, Victoria.

COLIN DAVIS is Professor of English History, School of English and American Studies, University of East Anglia. He has taught at Victoria University and Massey University in New Zealand.

MOIRA LONG was until recently Special Printed Collections Librarian at the Alexander Turnbull Library.

MICHAEL REILLY is a member of the History Faculty, University of Otago.

DR J. R. TYE is a former Reader of English at Victoria University, and a past president of the Friends of the Turnbull Library.