

Our success depends on you

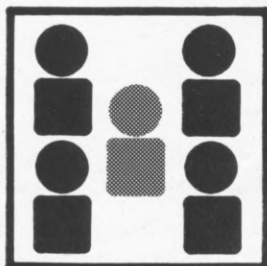

Being convicted of a crime doesn't stop someone being part of our community.

This is why The Department of Justice needs your help.

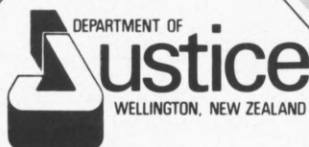

Some sentences are already being successfully served in the community.

The Criminal Justice Act 1985, offers even more ways for the community to become involved.

If you or your group would like to know more, contact your local District Probation Office — see Department of Justice in your telephone book.

The Criminal Justice Act 1985