

A NERVE SPECIALIST ON ALCOHOL.

DR. J. F. McKEDDIE, OF MEL-BOURNE.

"I won't harrow you with the horrible effects of alcohol here. But let me just say this in passing: 'Drink seems to grease the skids on every track that leads to perdition. It accelerates, for example, tuberculosis. A man whose lung has been healed up takes to alcohol, and soon comes back with the disease ten times more firmly established; alcohol increases it, and presently sends it surging upwards into the brain.'"
